ACROSS ATLANTIC.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Prophecy is dangerous, but with a full realization of the pitfalls, the correspondent of the New York Sun ventures the following prediction: "Within three months, probably before New Year, direct telegraphic communication without interruption, and without the use of relays, will be established for the first time between New York and London, and telegrams will be exchanged at a speed more than four times the previous capacity of any cable."

"I am tempted to go a step further, and express strong expectation that, within the year, it will be feasible to converse by telephone between the Sun building in New York and the Sun's London office as it is across Manhattan."

"Perhaps it is as well to confess that."

LUMBER TIED UP
BY LACK OF CARS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TACOMA (Wash.) Nov. 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A compilation just completed by lumber experts shows that the lumber and shingle mills of Puget Sound have lost the sale of 10,000 carloads to stern dealers during the last six months because of the shortage. The shortage has been more pronounced this year than ever before. About July 1, crop reports indicated that Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and adjoining States were to have phenomenal crops. This meant an enormous increase in lumber and shingle consumption. The lumber shipments had no sooner become heavy, than the transcontinental lines placed the cars going into the southwestern territory over the Burlington and other connecting lines.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Members of the House are congratulating themselves over the fact that for once they have the "bulge" on the Senators in the matter of Congressional perquisites. In making inquiry of stationery keepers of the House they have been informed that they are each to receive an allowance of $125 for general supplies for the extra session, and an allowance of a like sum for the regular session that begins next month. This is just $125 more than the Senators receive, for they get no allowance for the two sessions. Many of the members find they have no use for $125 worth of pens, pencils and paper, and accordingly have pocketed the money, which is enough to cover most of their expenses for the extra session.

Warner has taken up this subject, declaring that if Bishop to show that the bishop's statement is no-

The World of Sport—Los Angeles Again Defeats Portland—Much Interest in Coming Automobile Races

INTERESTING DIVERSION AT CHUTE'S PARK.

MORLEY'S DUTCH POLICEMAN THE CYNOSURE OF ALL EYES.

Kaiser Frankfurter Schickelritsch der Grosse Takes Life and Himself Seriously, Much to the Delight of Six Thousand Interested Fans.

Los Angeles, 5, Portland, 1. Six thousand interested fans, a beautiful game with two of the best pitchers in the country fighting for the victory, and Morley's Dutch policeman, the features of the ball game were received all that was asked for.

Aside from the twenty hits in the contest and the satisfaction of seeing the local win, Kaiser Frankfurter Schickelritsch der Grosse was the performance with the opera-house and the lot thrown in, for his actions really furnished more enthusiasm than any of the feats on the field. A step further in any given inning would have created a riot for himself, but instead of throwing his personality away on 1500 fans, he wrapped himself in his own dignity, stood by two policemen during the latter part of the game and was thus saved unscathed to prosperity.

Frankfurter, as he is sometimes called, is about the only human being attending the ball game who takes himself seriously. Fancy pitchers with gold or glass arms, star fielders, the directors of the local club and even the players of the losing team, laugh at him and often think life is a joke, but not the Dutch policeman who keeps the "kitt out of the dirt" and even derisive remarks are not ready.

It is too serious a thing to be a special watchman and Frankfurter can't be cheated out of himself.

"Ven he walks out mit der grounds der his keep away out," and yesterday he tried himself on about 1500 to-day fans on the right-hand bleachers. He didn't last long, although he called for the police, for a genuine baseball fan goes to a game expecting the worst to happen and don't care if it does. Frankfurter frequently retrieves the foul balls that the batsmen send into the bleachers, and when he sought to do this about the middle of the game, he was called out by a fan's remarks, a seat-cushion and a half-eaten apple and retired in disorder.

He first told his troubles to two policemen and then to Manager Morley, without receiving anything but a laugh, and after the game was over one saw a fan who told the batsmen to hit him in the neck with a seat cushion from a long distance, exhibiting a perfect control that many pitchers would give large sums of money to possess.

The trouble happened in some forgotten inning when some foreign player fouled a ball well up into the right-hand bleachers toward the southern end. If you would shoot a bottle of booze at a crowd of a hundred boboos you would expect to get much of it back. That is about the way with a baseball, for when it is fouled into the bleachers the management simply charges $1 up to human depravity, throws out more balls and requests that the game proceed.

Not so with Frankfurter, for he made a bluff at getting the lot. Yesterday when a ball was fouled into the right-hand bleachers, Frankfurter started down the aisle, and when he arrived opposite the point where he saw some fans, he suddenly pulled a pistol from his coat and pointed it at them. Six thousand people were watching the game, packed in the seats like people in a stock exchange. They were noisy, for large bodies of like-day sports are restless and want something to do. Now when Frankfurter raised up his cane and then, presumably, demanded that a ball be thrown back to him, he was called "chase himself," "he down," "take a pill," "swallow his tongue," and other rancorous advice that many people receive in this life.

Frankfurter wouldn't take this, and when he stood his ground hundreds of voices yelled him. A thousand people raised from their seats and hooted and yelled, and laughed at this poor old man trying to tell baseball cranks something. Some of the players looked around, and hundreds of people turned from the game to get the latest news from the war in Germany.

Frankfurter wouldn't back up, however, and walked along the aisle, netting to the gate at the southern end. He did not go in, though, for some reason, and to the amusement of the six thousand people who were watching his antics, he suddenly pulled a pistol from his coat and pointed it at them. ONLY ORDINARY WORK DONE BY BOWLERS.

FEW CHANGES IN THE TEAM AND INDIVIDUAL STANDING.

Monarch, Ocean Park and Belmont Teams Lead in the Southern California Interurban League's Fast Work.

Only ordinary work was done the past week in the Southern California Bowling Association, but this is not unexpected, for bowlers fall away from their form as readily as race horses do when they are not in the race.

There have been few changes in the team and individual standing, the Monarch, Ocean Park and Belmont teams being in first, second and third positions, as they were the previous week. The Christiansen displaced the Oaks for fourth place. In the individual list, Dunton took the lead from Fraser by a very small margin. The general impression among the fraternity is that the play will be stronger from now on, as the end of the tournament with the team and individual standing to date is as follows, minus fractions of a hit:

There were two very close matches, one between Hershey, Dr. W. R. Holladay and Frank Samuelson. Samuelson was the victor, but the match was a close one.

Another close match was between eight games of nine and ten and for these three with three of the pins. Samuelson made the remarkably high average of 132 at the annual game.

The scores were as follows:

GLENDORA.

CITRUS BELT NOTES.

GLENDORA, Nov. 15.—Dr. W. R.

McNair has purchased a lot adjoining the Weaver block, and next week will commence the erection of a brick building on it.

Members of the Athens Club, composed of Glendora residents, have presented a public library and reading-room to the board of directors of the city. The board has agreed to accept the gift, and the new building will be completed by the end of the year.

Dr. Bossman, late of Kansas City, has recently become a resident of Glendora.

ARTESIA.

NEW OLD FELLOWS LODGE.

ARTESIA, Nov. 15.—The Odd Fellows

Lodge has been organized here with twenty-one members.

The burial of Miss Gertrude Warren,

who was accidentally burned to death

at Los Alamitos, took place yesterday at the Artesia cemetery.

The Methodists are about to build a parsonage.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY LINGERS.

The Westminster Abbey Glee and

Concert Party, from the famous Westminster Abbey choir, sang to large audiences at Simsbury and Hartford yesterday afternoon and evening.

The program at each performance was a varied one, and every number was rendered in a pleasing and artistic manner. The soloists, Edward Branscombe, tenor; Miss Marie Hooton, contralto; and Percy Howard, male alto, fully sustained their reputations as vocalists of rare accomplishments and power.

Mr. Charles H. Schumann, "Heink," was an especially demonstrative reception.

The music lovers of Los Angeles will have another opportunity to hear these famous singers Tuesday evening, when they will appear at the Hotel de Ville.

Italian Band at Board's Pavilion.
